POLICE SEIZE ROBBERS AFTER SINZA RD. RAID

Gain Of Four Is Taken Into Custody; Two Are Wounded

Excellent work on the part of a police search party in the Bubbling Well District resulted in the capture of four robbers who were attempting to make their getaway after a raid on a rice shop at 1000 Sinza Road in which they stole $21.

The police party, headed by Sergeant Campbell and including a havildar of Sikhs and two Chinese constables, was conducting a search of the district when they were informed by a coolie employed at the rice shop that a robbery was in progress. As the police approached, the four robbers started to run. One of them was shot down by Sikh Police Constable 449 while the other three were attempting to jump the counter of the shop. In the meantime, two others were seized by Sergeant Campbell with the assistance of Sikh Police Constable 431 and the Chinese constables. The fourth member of the gang, who was supposed to have possessed a revolver, ran toward the Gordon Road district. The Sikh Havildar fired four shots at him, but he escaped. The stolen money was found on the persons of the two men arrested by Sergeant Campbell and scattered about the outside of the shop.

Later in the evening, the police were notified that a man giving the name of Koi Woon-sung, a native of Shantung, had been taken by two islands to the Shantung Road Hospital while suffering from a bullet wound in the right shoulder. In company with the police, the shopkeeper and an assistant, visited the hospital. They said that the wounded man resembled the robber who had carried a revolver and his clothing was also similar.

Plan Motor Road To Reach Nagao Rice Terraces

Philippines To Make Famed Show Place Easily Accessible

(Reuter's Pacific Service)
Manila, Dec. 5.—The famous rice terraces of the Ilocos region, the mountain province, which have been inaccessible to the outside world, perhaps for 2,000 years, except over a narrow mountain trail, can be viewed by motorists shortly after January first, according to announcement by the Bureau of Public Works.

These terraces which are among the show places of the Philippines are situated more than 5,000 feet above the sea and up to a few months ago could be reached only by a journey of four or five days on horseback over a hazardous mountain trail. On January second the Governor of Ilocos province will put every able-bodied man in the province to work on the roads and it is thought that the ten days service which each male Ilocos pays in labor will put the last twenty miles in good condition, so that automobiles may be driven into that region.

The engineering accomplishments of the Ilocos by which they are able to irrigate their rice fields on the mountain sides, even though their implements are of the crudest kind, have attracted the attention of irrigation engineers from many foreign countries.

Former Chief Of Customs Here Gets Cigarette Tax Post

Mr. Tao Yuan, former Superintendent of Customs at Shanghai, has just been appointed by the Central Government as Director of the National Cigarette Tax Bureau and is scheduled to take over the office on December 21. It is understood that the former director of the Bureau, Mr. Yang, is making preparations to transfer the office to Mr. Tao Yuan.

Mr. Tao Yuan is a native of Changchow and is quite well known in the foreign and Chinese communities. His temporary office is at No. 2 Route Yoyon, French Concession.

An Antiseptic Lintment
There is no danger whatever from lockjaw or blood poison resulting from a wound when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is promptly applied. It is antiseptic and destroys the germs which cause these diseases. It also causes wounds to heal without maturation and is the best treatment for sore throats.

CHINESE SCHOOL BOYS DO WELL IN THEIR SPEECH DAY

Annual Event Interesting With Talks And Songs By Students

If one would learn correct enunciation and pronunciation of English words he would do well in attending classes at the Shanghai Municipal Council Public School for Chinese.

For the English as spoken by the students of the school in the twentieth annual speech day was faultless.

Students recited a part of Shakespeare's "Henry IV," several poems, and a short dialogue, typically English. The younger students sang the chorus of "Home Sweet Home," carrying the tune very well.

Mr. Stirling Fessenden, chairman of the council, was in the chair. The headmaster, Mr. D. S. Foster-Kemp, in charge of the school since its inception, gave his annual report, showing the work of the graduates of the school and reviewing briefly the history of the institution. More than 420 students are enrolled in this term in the school. The boys carry on with their reading when they graduate, Mr. Kemp said.

Mr. J. T. Pratt, acting consul general of Great Britain, described education as being the most common ground upon which Americans, British and Chinese met.

Rev. F. L. Hawks Pott, president of St. John's University, one of the original workers for the school, reviewed the history of the beginning, told of the rigid scholastic requirements for entrance and expressed a hope for greater accomplishments of the school, greater even than have been done in the last 20 years.

Mr. Fessenden distributed prizes and certificates for excellency in work. The following boys were awarded prizes:

Special Prize for Chinese: Chang Chi Kwen (From Six).
Special Prize for English: Yu Bang Ling (From Six).

Shon Loh (From Five).
The Rayner Mathematical Prize: Shon Loh (From Five).

Form Six Prize: Yu Bang Ling.
Special Prizes for Excellence in Art: Tung Lee sing (From Five).
Dong Wai Ziang (From Four).

Chang Hung Shon (From Four).
Ma Char Chue (From Four).

School Certificate: Yu Bang Ling, Chang Chi Kwen, Ha sien Yu, Lee De Hwa.

Mr. Chang Nih-yun, member of the Chinese Educational Committee, spoke in Chinese of the school. Mr. K. S. Huang, chairman of the alumni association, paid a high tribute to the activities and work of the headmaster and presented, through Mr. Fessenden, a shield with the Chinese characters: "Your kindness will ever be remembered by us."

The school has two departments: Chinese and English. Studies in English are all in English with no translations. The same is true of the Chinese instruction. More than 3,500 pupils have been enrolled since the school was organized in 1904. The teaching staff is composed of 16 foreigners and 11 Chinese. An exhibit of the art work and writing of the pupils of all forms was shown. Some high grade work was hung on the walls.

Chen Assumes Post As Head Of Foreign Bureau Here

appointed to take over the post and would endeavor to preserve peace and order in Kiangsu. They said, however, that they would resist with force any attempt on the part of any high military officer, presumably Lu Yung-shang, to enter Kiangsu and take over the province.

Knowledge of this telegram, however, was later denied by General Kung, who according to an interview with him published locally. He asserted also that he would not go to Nanking to accept command of the 6th Kiangsu division unless he was authorized to do so by a mandate from the Peking government. According to a Peking telegram, a mandate to this effect has been issued, and another mandate is reported as naming Ho Feng-lin, former military governor here, as commander of the 19th Kiangsu division.

ANXIETY IN HANGCHOW

Anxiety over recent developments is being shown by Sun Chuan-fang, tui of Chekiang and Fukien, according to reports in the local vernacular press. These reports assert that Sun is pulling all of his troops toward Hangchow from Fukien province and that he has gathered at Hangchow 42 mountain guns and many quick-firing guns, as well as considerable quantities of ammunition. In addition, he is reported to have sent an envoy to Chang-Yuen-ping, Peking's appointee for the defense commissionership here, to interview the latter in an endeavor to frame a defensive alliance should either be attacked by Peking.

X-Ray Martyr Is Honored By France

(French Wireless Through Reuter)
Paris, Dec. 15.—Marshal Petain today presented Professor Bergonie, who has had his arm amputated as a result of experiments with X-rays, with the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor. Marshal Petain declared that a man like Professor Bergonie was a credit to France and mankind.

Shakespearean Star Will Give Recital At Lyceum Tomorrow

Lee Wallace Young, dramatic impersonator, and Miss Celia Ayon, will give a dramatic recital at the Lyceum Theater tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Wallace Young's specialties will include "The Classics," living creations of Shakespeare, specializing in "The Merchant of Venice," "Julius Caesar," "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "King Lear." There will be also a stirring quick change act, consisting of portrayals of famous heroes; the characters brought vividly before the audience in wigs, costumes and makeup, all changes made without the actor's leaving the stage. Miss Celia Ayon, formerly of the London theaters, will sing her famous husband in his characterizations and interpretations. Special students' concession tickets may be obtained by arrangement at the schools.

Ministers Hold Meeting To Consider Request Of Shanghai Bodies

(Eastern News Agency)
Peking, Dec. 16.—A meeting of the Diplomatic Corps was held today in connection with the proposal submitted by the Union of Chambers of Commerce in Shanghai to the Diplomatic Corps through the Consular Body at Shanghai that the Chinese Government be approached for the removal of the Kiangnan Arsenal and the powder-magazine at Lung-hwa on the ground that they are a factor which constantly creates uneasiness to the Settlements of Shanghai and which has proved the cause of troubles in the past whenever internal disturbances took place near Shanghai. As a result of this meeting, it is generally believed that the Diplomatic Corps will shortly negotiate with the Tuan Chi-jui Government in this respect, but in view of the fact that a large amount of money is required for the removal of the arsenal and the powder-magazine, it is rather doubtful if the Chinese Government will undertake their removal so soon as requested.

CHURCH DINNER AT NAVY 'Y' IS WELL ATTENDED

800 Members Foregather At Annual Meeting Of Community Church

Approximately 800 members of the Community Church attended the annual dinner of the organization which was held at the Navy Y.M.C.A. last night, which in addition to being a business meeting also constituted a farewell testimonial to Dr. J. B. Pearn, chairman of the Board of Governors who is departing soon on an extended trip to the United States and Europe. Preceding and during the dinner there was music by the Church choir and Miss Ethel Lacy gave two recitations, one of which was dedicated to Dr. Pearn.

Dr. J. C. McCracken, recently elected chairman of the Board, presided at the business meeting which consisted chiefly of a consideration of the current finances of the Church as well as the matter of the new building on Avenue Pottin. The announcement that the new Church building will be ready for occupancy in January and that it will be completed by March brought applause.

The financial statement which was presented showed receipts of $15,415.86 and disbursements of $15,235 leaving a deficit of $180.86 which it was hoped will be made up before the end of the year. The financial showing was considered gratifying in view of the fact that the organization began the year with a deficit of $1,113.25. Money expended for benevolence during the year totalled $3,245.73 including contributions to civilian relief, the Door of Hope, Foreign Women's Home, Industrial Relief, Moral Welfare League, Richa Mission, School for Chinese Blind, Christian War Relief Association, Vacation Bible School, Church Building Fund, Chinese Y.M.C.A. War Relief, National Committee, Y.M.C.A. Missions in the United States, hospital bills and Bibles distributed.

During the course of the meeting the Rev. Clifford M. Drury, pastor, caused to be passed around a number of specially related stamps which the members purchased, the money going to the Church organ fund. Mr. Carlton Lacy was secretary of the meeting.

Del Monte To Offer Sanguinetti Nights

Those in Shanghai who call San Francisco home, and hundreds of others who would like to, will welcome vociferously the announcement of the management of the Del Monte Cafe that for two nights—on Thursday and Friday of this week—the Del Monte will be a replica of Sanguinetti's, most famous of all San Francisco cafes and known everywhere as a rendezvous for Bohemians.

Not only will the Del Monte offer every feature of the real Sanguinetti's, but it will be Sanguinetti's on a carnival night. The highlight on the floor, the spicy smell of garlic, the merry tinkle of glasses, the dim lights, the steaming spaghetti and ravioli will all be there, and "Old Steve" himself will welcome patrons to the Del Monte on these two nights.

INCREASE IN U. S. POSTAL RATES IS URGED IN REPORT

Congress Asked To Raise Tariff To Provide For Higher Pay

(China Press Radio)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—Postmaster-General Harry B. New today recommended to Congress an increase of postal rates on virtually all classes of mail, except letters. This would yield $66,500,370, approximately the cost of the additional costs provided by the postal pay increases bill which President Coolidge vetoed last session.

FRENCH SEAMAN IS SEIZED FOR BRINGING ARMS

Russian Taken Into Custody
For Carrying Revolver
Without Permit

Antonin Spangoli, a fireman on the Messageries Maritimes liner Paul Lecat, was taken into custody by police of the Wayside Station at the Whangpoo Wharf while in possession of 1500 rounds of .32 caliber ammunition. Spangoli, a Frenchman, told the police that he had found the ammunition in the machine room aboard ship, but he failed to explain why he was bringing it ashore. He was turned over to the French Consular Court for trial.

Another foreigner, Nikolla Gall, a Russian, was taken into custody on a charge of carrying firearms without a license. His arrest was effected through the efforts of a Japanese, who brought a .45 caliber revolver to the Hongkew Police Station and told the police that he had seen the weapon drop from the pocket of a foreigner in the Public Garden. Police accompanied the Japanese to the Public Garden, where he pointed out Gall, a former Russian seaman, residing at 10 Haiphong Road, as the man who had dropped the gun. Gall was intoxicated at the time, in the Mixed Court yesterday, he said he knew nothing of the pistol. His case was remanded until Thursday.

Two members of the military were before Mixed Court yesterday on charges of being in possession of firearms. Sling Kwe-ling, former soldier, was given six months. He said he was bringing the pistol into Shanghai for his officer to be repaired.

Zung Soong-yong, arrested on Boundary Road, was sentenced to nine months and expulsion.

Apprentice "Fixes" Meter, Boss Fired

Dong Ding-pau, electrician, who was alleged to have fixed his electric meter at his home, 408 Shanghai Road, so that it failed to record all the electricity used, was fined $50 by Mixed Court yesterday. He said his apprentice had done the tinkering.

You May Even Learn To Dance By Radio Tonight

Could be a dancer yourself
For I know
You could

Do I hear you say
You don't believe it?

Now you listen to me!

What do you think is
The main difference Between you and a great Artist dancer?

It's this:
Maybe his moods
Are a little clearer,
Maybe his motions
Are a little braver,
Maybe his sounds
Are a wee bit sweeter,
His thoughts maybe
A slight way clearer.

And it may too be
He loves other folks—
And all other folks
With his full heart deeper;
Loves them and prays for them
Each day deeper.

And now I muse
With you and the glowing fire
Of my typewriter's chatter know
That a dancer's heart
Is filled with soul
Like slow dynamite
Forever reaching out
And up and down and over.

Like a child's heart,
Like the heart leaping
Out of the black forms of coal.

And I dare say there're times
When you have moods
Which could break
Or lift
The world and all.

Haven't you?
Yes I thought so.
The power is there
But you lack the skill.
You are the force
But your moods lack form
Which folks call beauty.

Now you needn't be nervous
This is a confidential
Conversation 'twixt you and me
And you can admit right out You'd like a lot
To walk and talk and smile
And end and live
And move around the town
As graceful as an angel.

If you're a man
I'm sure of it, being one;
And if you're a woman
You're sure of it.

So I'll meet you tonight
In the dark blue sky
On a playground
Of star-choiced winds
And we'll dance new moods
In time's highways.

You and me and they;
You my playmates
And me and they.

It is, without doubt, the first time that a dancing lesson has been attempted over the radio;
however, if Shanghai fans like it, we shall be glad to give them another one, if Mr. Bovington's willing.

HOLLAND ALOOF ON BRITISH PLAN FOR SINGAPORE

Defense Of Neutrality Still Remains Only Aim Of Dutch, Claim

(Lawyer's Service)

London, Dec. 16.—Holland is watching with the greatest interest the resumption of the Singapore dock scheme, but a Dutch authority emphatically denies the statement of the Manchester Guardian's London correspondent to the effect that Dutch schemes of defense of the Dutch Indies will be affected thereby.

He states that the Dutch Government do not intend to enter into conversations with the British Government in regard to the matter. The defense of her neutrality is stated to be the only object that Dutch policy can pursue.

News Brevities

The annual meeting of the East China Christian Educational Association will be held in Shanghai on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 20 to 22. The full details as to the program will be given later, but the first day will probably be devoted to sectional meetings, including the Middle School Association and the College Teachers' Section. The meeting last year was given over largely to reports regarding the work of the Association. This year attention will be centered upon the discussion of a few problems, such as, the training of religious work in Christian schools; health education, and the teaching of Chinese, and of English phonetics. The experiment tried last year of conducting discussion in Chinese proved so successful that a considerable part of the exercises will be in Chinese at the coming meeting.

The annual concert and awarding of prizes at the Thomas Hargrave School for boys will take place on Thursday afternoon, December 18 at 6 o'clock. Parents and friends have been invited to attend.

The new firm of architects and engineers, Black, Wilson and Company have opened offices at No. 24 Yuen Ming Yuen Road, next the Missions Building. The new firm combines the two bureaus of J. H. Black of Shanghai and J. N. Wilson of Hangchow and both have had experience running over twelve years in China. With the new firm will be associated Mr. J. B. Latimer, who is now in America. Mr. Latimer will handle land matters, Chinese title deeds and purchasing in view of his knowledge of the Chinese language.

Mrs. John S. Potter wife of Mr. John S. Potter of Shanghai is returning from the United States on the President Taft, which is scheduled to reach Shanghai on Friday, December 19, along with her infant son. Mrs. Potter has spent the past eight months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Booker, at Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. A. Horne will lecture on the subject, "Reincarnation of Nations" at 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon before the Shanghai Lodge of the Theosophical Society at No. 12 Rue du Consulate. The lecture which will be illustrated by lantern slides will be open to the public.

The General Committee having charge of the Washington Birthday Ball which is held each year under the auspices of the American Company, S. V. C. will meet at the office of Mr. E. S. Cunningham, American Consul-General at 5:15 o'clock on the afternoon of Friday, December 19 for the purpose of making arrangements for the function.

At the kind invitation of Dr. A. W. Pears, will meet at her home at 33 Route Pichon, at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, December 20, when a Discussion Concert of Psycho-Rhythmic Dances by John and Louise Bovingdon will be given. While no charge will be made, each person will be given the opportunity of contributing something towards the fine work that Mr. and Mrs. Bovingdon are doing. The meeting is open to the public.

Owing to a typographical error in the advertisement of the monthly drawing of the International Savings Society appearing in the CHINA PRESS yesterday, the $300 disbursement should have gone to the holder of bond No. 40463 instead of 40464 as stated in the advertisement.

American Women's Club Hear Talk By Prof. Porterfield

St. John's Professor Relates Curious Characteristics Of Bamboo

The Art Department of the American Women's Club held its regular meeting in club headquarters yesterday afternoon and entertained Professor and Mrs. Porterfield, of St. John's University. Professor Porterfield afterward gave an entertaining lecture on "What is Bamboo?" He had several specimens, charts and books which were illustrative of his talk. One volume, discovered in an old book shop in North China, was published in 1701 and contains page after page of lovely examples of bamboo in solid brush strokes and exquisite line drawings. The book is really a combination of example and instruction on how to draw bamboo leaves, published for Chinese artists of the early eighteenth century.

Among some of the interesting points of Professor Porterfield's lecture was one concerned with the remarkable growth of bamboo. A botanist Java, interested in the rapid growth of the tree, took accurate measurements for a period covering the entire growth of the tree. He found it necessary to make almost hourly calculations, so rapid was the growth of the giant bamboo tree which grows in Java and which he was measuring. The growth is dependent on climatic conditions: the tree grows more rapidly in wet weather than in dry, and at night than in the daytime. It was found that the tree grew 33 millimeters per hour at night. The tree reaches its full height in from forty to sixty days; a specimen of square bamboo on the St. John's University campus, measured by Professor Porterfield, attained its full height in forty-two days.

REGULAR FLOWERING
The flowering of bamboos is general all over the world, at the same time, and occurs irregularly. There was a general flowering in 1911 or 1912, and again, last year. It is said that the bamboo flowers when there is a famine and save the people from starvation. An authentic case is cited from India when people came from many parts of the country to the jungles where the bamboo trees were in flower, dropping their seeds on the ground. The people camped in the jungles for ten days, gathering the seed from the earth in baskets. There was enough to feed everybody during the winter and to sell at market, besides. The bamboo seed is something like rice, and can be used in lieu of the latter.

Of the 490 species of bamboo

WHO SAID BEGG'S?

there are certain kinds that produce poisonous hairs. It was discovered when bedding cattle with stalks of this type of bamboo that the animals developed a skin infection. A species of tortoise which makes use of these poisonous bamboos has been devised. The hairs are boiled in water and prisoners are forced to drink the concoction. The throat becomes raw and inflamed as a result and an infection develops which usually results fatally after protracted pain and suffering.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED
The club entertained two visiting club women from the states who are on a tour of the world yesterday. One of them, Miss Young, professor in the University of Pittsburgh, spoke briefly of her experiences with women's clubs abroad, particularly the American Women's Club in Brussels, where she was at the beginning of the world war.

INDIAN OUTPUT OF OPIUM HELD MINOR FACTOR

Nevertheless Changed Policy Would Be Advisable, Says Guardian

(Reuter's Service)
London, Dec. 15.—The Manchester Guardian, in a leading article admits that even if the Government of India sacrificed three percent of its revenues drawn from opium and stopped exporting the world situation would not be decisively improved in view of the fact that countries like Turkey and Persia might still be active and China would still be able to provide smugglers with generous cargoes. Nevertheless the journal suggests that in view of the importance of the presence of the Americans at the Geneva conference it would have been wiser and more just had the Indian Delegation not dug itself in behind a barrier of technicalities, and says that there is still time to change this policy.

The concluding musicale of the present season was held yesterday afternoon at Headquarters by the Musical section of the B. W. A., the program marking an excellent conclusion for a series which has brought real pleasure to members of the section and friends during the past few months. The next series of concerts will begin on Tuesday, January 6, with biweekly programs continuing on the first and third Tuesdays of the month through April.

Mrs. S. G. Fenton's violin solos, "Romance" by A. d'Ambrosio; "En Bateau" by Claude De Busay, and "A Negro Love-Song", by S. Coleridge-Taylor, were particularly charming. Mr. Fuleton, Madame A. de Olsufeff and Mrs. Kingman each sang a group of songs, and Madame Shirokoro delivered a pianoforte solo, "Pavane Variée", by Mozart.

Training In Useful Arts Is Given Chinese Blind

52 Boys Now Enrolled In Institution Located On Edinburgh Road; Funds Are Needed

The Institution for the Chinese Blind, located at No. 4 Edinburgh Road, Shanghai now has fifty-two Chinese boys enrolled who are being trained in useful work according to a report issued yesterday. Fifteen are in the industrial department and the older ones are now able to earn their way in manufacturing rattan furniture. The work produced is equally as good and is sold at prices considerably lower than the prices prevailing in the average Chinese shops.

The school is especially desirous of obtaining orders for the work turned out by the students, since sales of $500 a month would make this department of the School self-supporting. The personnel of the committee has somewhat changed during the past year, the following being chosen from 1925: Mr. Geo. A. Fitch Chairman, Mr. T. A. Clark, Hon. Treasurer, Mr. George McCarthy, Dr. Fong F. Sec. Rev. G. W. Sheppard, Mr. Chung Men-yew, Mr. Wong I-tung, Mr. Y. S. Day, Mr. T. T. Wu, Mrs. T. K. M. Siao, Mrs. E. Harrison King, Mrs. F. W. Fowler, and the following trustees who are ex officio: Mr. Reader-

Harris, Mr. George Howell, Miss S. M. Burdick, Rev. E. Box and Dr. S. I. Woodbridge. The Institution has been without a Treasurer for the past two years and now that Mr. T. A. Clarke has consented to serve the finances of the Institution should be well looked after.

Notwithstanding the strenuous times the Institution has been able to meet all of its liabilities so far, but there are at present no funds with which to carry on the work until the end of the fiscal year.

January 31, 1925. In all, about $1,000 is needed and the Committee sincerely hope that donations covering this amount will be forth coming before the China New Year Holidays.

Mr. G. B. Fryer, the present Superintendent and Secretary is leaving for a six months furlough in January and during his absence Mr. Sam. Hocking will be in charge as Acting Superintendent and Secretary.

Last year the boys received generous gifts from Chinese and other friends at Christmas and it is hoped they will again be remembered this time.

The Institution is in need of old magazines and pamphlets to be used in the writing of text books.

A card addressed to the Institution will bring a coolie around for any that can be spared. Three sheets are pasted together, making a paper of sufficient thickness for writing Braille upon.

MORE TROUBLES ARE FEARED BY NANCHANG FOLK

Hasty Departure Of Tuli Tsai Followed By Days Of Constant Alarm

(China Press Correspondence)
Nanchang, Kiangsi Dec. 9.—
The last few weeks have been the most trying times Nanchang has seen in many years and the troubles are not yet over. Wei Tsai did not indicate his intentions until the last minute, and left the populace in suspense with the fear that looting would break out among his unpaid troops. However it did not occur and Tsai has now gone with all his troops and Fan Ben Ren is now holding the place. No one is sure of the future as there are four factions in charge of troops and no one knows who will have the power to issue orders to the entire group. This left unceremoniously in the night. His troops looted a small town and countryside on the railroad outside of Nanchang, and for the next two days no trains arrived from Kinkiang.

The entire city has been blocked off by the use of wooden gates so that if looting does occur it can be confined to a small area as possible gates being placed across the streets every few blocks length. The mission compounds have all had refugees and preparation was made for many more in case of severe trouble.

Business has been at a standstill and the shops have closed before dark for the past weeks.
The Guilds, Chamber of Commerce, Provincial Assembly and different societies have done fine service in making the change of officials as easy and quiet as possible.

FAMINE RELIEF HALTED
The matter of Famine Relief has been held up on account of the above trouble and while investigation is going on nothing has actually been done in construction work. Mr. Carl Hildebrand, engineer with the Famine Relief Commission at Peking has arrived and is doing investigation and estimating the different fields and work. The Committee hopes to be in full swing very soon.

The local Famine Relief Commission for Kiangsi has accepted the Constitution of the Peking International Committee and are ready to go ahead on that basis.
Mr. W. R. Johnson is acting General Secretary and a staff of foreigners and Chinese is being organised. Mr. L. R. Craighill has been appointed in place of Mr. F.
R. Brown, who is home on Turlough, and Mr. Ben. H. Schmidt of the Y. M. C. A. has been appointed in place of Mr. A. J.

Allen.
The following is a report of a trip made by Mr. Johnson and Mr. Hildebrand:
"Up to the present time, the localities (islands) known as San Jung Ju, and Tai Chen Ju have been investigated. The former contains about 20,000 mow of agricultural land, has a population of approximately 12,000 among whom it is reported there are 2,500 workmen that could be called for dyke repair work.

There are about 10 li of dykes in which there are three breaks where the water broke in from the surrounding streams, while the entire dyke, particularly that part on the north end of the island, has been badly battered by wave action and will require extensive repairs. It is estimated that there will be in the neighborhood of 80,000 fms. (containing 100 cubic feet each) of earth-work. The average carry will be about 100 feet. At two of the breaks it will be necessary to relocate the dyke in which case it will be necessary to either purchase or confiscate what was formerly agricultural land.

ACTION IMPERATIVE
"At Tai Chen Ju a similar condition exists, except that there are only 10,000 mow of agricultural land, a population of 7,000 out of which 2,000 workmen can be obtained. The length of the dyke is about thirty li, in which there are two breaks. In both cases the dyke will have to be relocated. The remainder of the dyke has also been badly battered, and perhaps is in a worse condition than in the locality described above. The estimated amount of earthwork required to raise the dykes to their former level will be around 50,000 fms.

with an average carry of 100 feet.
"In view of the vast extent of the flooded districts and of the comparatively short time in which to do the repair work, it is recommended that steps be taken to get work under way in the districts already investigated at the earliest possible date."

U. S. NAVY NOW PLANS BIGGEST DIRIGIBLE YET

Proposed British Cruiser Would Be Exceeded By America

(Reuter's American Service)
Washington, Dec. 15.—The Navy's air experts today advised Congress of their plans for a dirigible of 4,000,000 cubic feet as compared with the newly ordered British ships of 5,000,000 cubic feet.

The ship will be able to carry 22 tons, she will be 785 feet long, 121 feet in diameter, her engines will develop 3,900 horsepower, she will have a cross lifting capacity of 434 tons, and a cruising radius of 7,150 nautical miles. At the highest estimates she will cost $6,000,000.

(Reuter's Press Radio)
Washington, Dec. 15.—A report was made public today showing that Mr. Curtis D. Wilbur, the Secretary of the Navy, told the House committee which drafted the annual navy supply bill that the United States would have a fleet of 110,000,000 annually for the next twenty years on an equal footing with Great Britain and superior to the Japanese and to the full extent of the arms conference ratio.

Secretary Wilbur said that the estimate was not a recommendation but a statement of facts as required by the community. He said $25,000,000 would be required annually for ships and $18,000,000 for aircraft.

The annual navy appropriation bill now before the house makes the following provision for the year 1925: Pearl Harbor, $345,000 including $45,000 for additional moorings; $20,000 for the improvement of the waterfront of the industrial section; $10,000 for the extension of the administration buildings and $25,000 for the extension of the motor general building and equipment of the submarine base.

For Samoa, Samoa, wharf improvements the sum of $28,000 is provided, and for continuing the removal of naval equipment from Olongapo, Cavite the bill carries $20,000.

Thursday's Recital

A genuine treat is promised local play-goers at the Lyceum Theater at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, December 18, when Mr. Leo Wallace Young and Miss Celia Avon will give a series of dramatic recitals. These two gifter players have helped many an audience to spend a brilliant evening with famous actors, famous authors and famous plays.

A dramatic contemporary has this to say regarding this talented pair: "You have your picture in every posture and gesture of these experienced players—you also have that which a motion picture is unable to produce in the rich, noble voices of Leo Wallace Young and the soul of the artist throbbing in the spoken word. And words from the greatest dramatic poets and playwrights of all time. An outpouring of genuine talent either in comedy which becomes so infectious that one beams with joy, in horror which comes over us like a summer cloud, or tragedy, the terror, dignity or pathos of which thrills to the core. And there again, nothing is hidden: you see the actor as he works from the time he enters the stage."

An evening changes, and preparation for the various portrayals, big beard, paints and costumes are done as in an artist's dressing-room and in full view of the audience. And so the recitals take us, not only through the wonderful realms of literature but we travel with him from the time he steps into the stage door up to the supreme moment when, in the portrayal of some famous character, all are carried by the soul of the artist to other spheres."

Amateur In France Hears New Zealand

Tickling Throat

Oh, you ever have that nerve-racking experience caused by a bit of mucus or phlegm that stubbornly refuses to be dislodged, but tickles and tickles until it sometimes almost strangles? Just a few drops of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy swallowed very slowly and allowed to glide down the throat will stop that tickle and at once give you immense relief. Try it that way too for hoarseness, bronchitis and other coughs. For sale everywhere.

Wood Sends Report On Palmas Island Dispute

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, Dec. 4.—Governor General Leonard Wood has made a report to Washington regarding the dispute between the United States and the Netherlands Government over the control of Las Palmas Island, one of the Philippine group about fifteen miles south of Davao province in the Celebes Sea. Governor General Wood and Governor General D. Fock of the Dutch East Indies were authorized by their respective governments to reach an understanding in the matter several months ago and during an exchange of visits between the two Governors-general an agreement was reached. Governor General Wood said his report was on the way to the War Department at Washington, but on account of its confidential nature he could not discuss it.

Although Las Palmas is forty miles within the defined boundary of the Philippine group, according to American claims, the Netherlands flag has continued to fly over the island and the Dutch Government of Java has continued to administer the affairs of the island.

Customs officials also declare that a large number of Chinese laborers evade the immigration laws through this route.

The President Monroe, Dollar Steamship Company's round-the-world liner, brought only one passenger to Shanghai when it arrived yesterday morning from the United States, via Honolulu and Japanese ports. The passenger was Miss Helen Gallaher of Mount Pleasant, Ohio.

The Monroe, however, had a capacity list, the majority of the passengers booked for the entire globe-circling voyage.

Included among the passengers were Dr. William O. Krohn, alien-

Travel To Europe From Far East And U. S. Heavy

The winter steamship travel season on the Pacific, around the world and to Europe from Shanghai has started strong, local travel and ship company officials said yesterday.

Booking to Europe on American, British, Japanese, French and German liners are extra heavy at this time. Passenger lists are being filled nearly a month in advance of sailings with the exception of single accommodations.

Low rates have been responsible for much of the success of the German liners in their re-invasion of the far east field, shipping men say.

But higher tariff ships are just as filled to capacity with passengers as are the lower rate ships.

The President Moore, Dollar liner, arrived yesterday with practically every reservation taken, about half of the reservations being for the circling of the globe. Other vessels of this service are also booked solid from the Pacific coast to the Orient with plenty of persons in the Orient asking reservations to Europe.

German liners, leaving Shanghai within the next two months, are reported nearly filled. French, British and Japanese boats for Europe, via Suez, are also getting their share of the business.

So heavy has the business of the Dollar company become that the President Polk, badly damaged by fire in the New York harbor, is being completely rebuilt with passenger accommodations being increased to 150. The passenger capacity of the Dollar liners at present is 34. It is planned by the Dollar company to rebuild the upper structures of all the round the world service vessels.

Freight offerings on the majority of vessels are heavy. It is said, several ships coming to and leaving the Orient with capacity cargoes.

In line with their policy of providing every safeguard for lives and property at sea, the United States Shipping Board has lately installed on five President ships operated for them on the Pacific the latest development in radio.

The radio compass is now installed on all five of the Pacific Mail fleet, the President Cleveland, President Lincoln, President Pierce, President Taft, and President Wilson.

Time was when one of the greatest dangers of ocean travel was the fact that if fog or heavy weather was encountered when approaching land, it was often impossible to tell the exact position and many a good ship has come to grief through the inability of the master to tell where he was.

Today, thanks to the radio compass, all this is changed and it is now possible, no matter how foggy it may be, or how stormy the weather, for the master to ascertain his exact location at any time, just as if the sun were shining.

The method by which this is determined is declared to be simple. When in doubt as to a ship's position, communication is established with various shore stations or other ships, their position ascertained and plotted on the chart; the point where the different lines all meet being the position of the ship.

The radio compass consists of a revolving loop aerial placed above a Gyroscopic repeater, which is connected in the master compass. The loop is connected to a sensitive radio receiver, containing four steps of amplification. When the signals of a desired radio station or vessel is tuned in, the loop is revolved until the station or vessel is heard at its weakest point or broadside of the loop, which indicates its direction.

Agricultural Bill, Passed By House, Carries $124,000,000

(China Press Radio)
Washington, Dec. 16.—The agricultural appropriation bill carrying $124,000,000 of which $30,000,000 would be available for road construction, passed the house today. The bill would appropriate about $50,000,000 more than last year's measure, but it carries $7,000,000 less than the budget estimated.

FOR FATHERS AND DAUGHTERS, MOTHERS AND SONS

To every man and woman, old or young, who values the clear skin, bright eye and buoyant spirits of health Pinkettes are of the utmost value because, used when necessary, they keep the system clean, the liver in good working order, ensure daily regularity. As a remedy for constipation, sick headaches, liverishness and bilious attacks they are perfection; they assist digestion, relieve piles, clear away pimples and blotches, purify the breath. All chemists sell Pinkettes, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Gun Running "Talbot" To Be Auctioned Again

Department Of State Rules Vessel May Be Sold To Non-Americans

The sailing vessel W. H. Talbot has now to be offered for auction again. It will be remembered that recently under a stipulation of both parties in the suit brought against the ship by Leong Kow, the vessel was offered for public auction by Mr. Thurston R. Porter, U. S. Marshal, one of the terms of the sale being that the ship could only be sold to an American citizen. On that understanding the W. H. Talbot was knocked down to Major C. P. Holcomb for Tls. 6,000 and last Monday week the Marshal applied for the approval of the Court to the sale. Major Holcomb explained in Court that the vessel had been purchased by him on account of Chinese interests and the point of law with regard to sale to non-Americans was raised. On Monday Judge Milton D. Purdy made an order disapproving the sale and ordering the Marshal to hold another sale on or about December 22, 1924.

In the meantime word has been received from the State Department to the effect that the vessel may be sold to anyone, American or non-American citizens, with the proviso that the vessel shall not be engaged in traffic contrary to the laws of the United States, which proviso is to be binding upon the title of the ship. With this one stipulation the purchase of the vessel is now open to all bidders. Judge Purdy's order disapproving of the original sale and ordering a new one, is as follows:

Business and Official Notices

Harbour Notification No. 28 of 1924

Junk sunk off Kao Chiao Creek Removed

Referring to Harbour Notification No. 27 of 1924, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the junk which lay sunk opposite the mouth of Kao Chiao Creek has been moved 700 feet toward the west bank of the river, and is therefore well clear of the fairway.

The mark boat, which lay riverward of the wreck, has been withdrawn.

A. HOTSON,
Harbour Master.

Approved:

Harbour Notification No. 29 of 1924

Anchor and Chain recovered near Middle Ground Buoy

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an anchor, with eight lengths of chain attached to it, has been recovered from the river outside Woosung, in the vicinity of Middle Ground Buoy, and is now lying on the Customs property at Woosung, where it may be inspected.

The anchor is a stockless patent anchor, weighing about four tons.

The chain is 2 1/2" stud link. Each length is 95 feet.

If not claimed and salvage paid, within one month from the date of this notice, the anchor and chain become the property of the salvors.

Harbour Notification No. 30 of 1924

Clause 40 Harbour Regulations Notice called to.

The notice of owners and masters of steam launches, tugs, and tenders is hereby called to Clause 40 of the Harbour Regulations, which states:

"The blowing of steam whistles or sirens, except for the purpose of signalling in accordance with the 'Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea' or for the purpose of warning vessels of danger, is strictly forbidden."

Long blasts of whistles or sirens, prior to departure from wharves etc. constitute an infringement of this Regulation; and those indulging in the practice render themselves liable to the consequences of corrective action in the part of the Harbour authority.

A. HOTSON,
Harbour Master.

NOTICE OF SALE OF S. S. V. "W. H. TALBOT"

Cause No. 2475
Civil No. 935

Notice is hereby given that under and pursuant to instructions contained in that certain order and decree of the above-named Court, made and filed in the above-entitled cause on the 15th day of December, 1923, I, Thurston R. Porter, United States Marshal for China, will sell at public auction, from the north steps of the United States Court Building at No. 11 Whangpoo Road, in the city of Shanghai, on Monday, the 22nd day of December, 1924, at 11 a.m., that certain sailing vessel commonly known and described as the "W. H. TALBOT", now lying near the Robert Dollar Wharf, in the harbor of Shanghai, together with her tackle, sails, apparel, furniture, boats, and other appurtenances; that said vessel will be offered and sold to the highest bidder without regard to the nationality of the vendee, but in case the purchaser at such sale is a citizen of some country other than the United States of America, then, and in such case, the purchaser must appear before the American Consul General, Shanghai, and execute an affidavit to the effect that such purchaser agrees that he will not employ, or use, said vessel in trade having to do with import or export of intoxicating liquors, goods, wares or merchandise in contravention of the laws of the United States, which said agreement shall run with the title of the ship so purchased.

It is further required, as one of the conditions of said sale, that the successful bidder shall at once deposit with the United States Marshal for China, upon the acceptance of his bid, 10 percent of the purchase price for which the vessel is sold, and that upon the approval and confirmation of said sale by the Court, the successful bidder shall thereupon pay over to the United States Marshal for China the balance of the purchase price to be paid for said vessel.

THURSTON R. PORTER,
United States Marshal for China.

FOR SALE.

The single-screw wooden steam launch "Haunting" is offered for sale as she now lies in the Harbour opposite Messrs. Hong Chong Chang's Shipyard, Pootung Point, the hull to be broken up in Shanghai.

The machinery consists of one set of compound, non-condensing, inverted, direct-acting engines, with cylinders 9" and 18" with 10" stroke, estimated horse power = 72.

The steel boiler is 7 feet by 4 feet, constructed for a working pressure of 140 lbs per square inch B. O. T., now reduced to 125 lbs per square inch.

The hull, engines and boiler were built by the New Engineering and Shipbuilding Works, Ltd. Shanghai, in 1906.

The terms of sale are cash on delivery and a stipulation that the hull must be broken up in Shanghai.

Offers should be addressed to the Coast Inspector, Custom House, Shanghai, and received by the 27th December, 1924.

Silk And Hides In American Market

First National Bank Of Boston Gives Authoritative Data

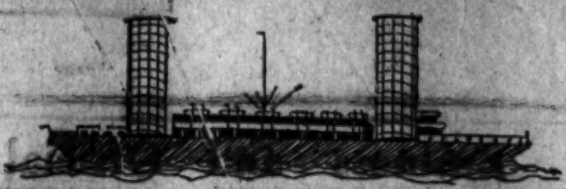

As silk and hides go in large quantities from this country to America, considerable interest attaches locally to the following statistics from the New England "Letter" supplied by the First National Bank of Boston.

RAW SILK AND SILK GOODS
In response to a combination of low prices and raw material depleted stocks in distributor channels and strong demand for finished goods, the silk industry has made a sharp recovery from the mid-summer slump. Production as reflected by mill takings and allowing for seasonal activity, has increased about 45 percent since June, in the face of a strike at Paterson. While practically all divisions of the trade have shared in this revival, the most marked improvement has taken place in the broad silk and ribbon branches. Imports of raw silk for October are reported at 37,444 bales. With the exception of last month, this represents the highest volume of imports since October, 1923. Storage of raw silk at the end of October was 14,393 bales, as against 42,160 bales for last month and 33,679 bales a year ago. Deliveries to American mills during October were 35,502 bales, slightly below September, but 37 percent above October of last year. These figures indicate a fairly healthy relationship between supply and demand, and should have a sustaining influence upon price. While prices of raw silk have advanced over the lowest monthly average of the year established in June they are still approximately 24 percent below the same period of last year. As a result of the comparatively low prices of the raw material, finished goods for spring delivery are 5 percent to 15 percent below fall quotations. It is the general feeling in the trade that this attractive price level, especially in view of the high prices of woolen and cotton goods, should stimulate forward buying on a large scale. The demand for artificial silk continues at a record rate.

HIDES, LEATHER AND FOOTWEAR

With the political uncertainties removed, better sentiment prevails in the hide and leather industry. While no large sales in leather have been reported, inquiries are more numerous and forward buying is on a larger scale. Hide prices have been moving upward for the last 6 months, and present quotations on heavy native steers are over 50 percent above the low point reached in April. This sharp advance is largely attributed to the substantial reductions in stocks. Imports of cattle hides for the first 9 months of this year were only 126,000,000 pounds, contrasted with 252,000,000 pounds for the same period in 1923, or an approximate reduction of 50 percent. Sole leather stocks of cattle, backs, heads and sides at the end of September were 30 percent below the same period a year ago, and stocks of the same grade in the process of tanning 18.5 percent lower. During the month of September the production of sole leather, cattle backs, heads, and sides showed an increase over August, but was considerably below September, 1923. Leather prices, after remaining steady since the latter part of May, advanced over 10 percent in October. Confronted by higher leather prices, manufacturers continue buying only for immediate requirements, as they are waiting to see if the increased cost can be passed on to the consumer. The September output of boots and shoes is estimated at 27,644,000, an increase of about 8.5 percent over August, and a slight gain over September of last year. Output for the first 9 months of this year was about 15 percent under that of the same period

A Sketch Of The Sailless "Sailer"

More On The Subject Of Sailing Without Sails

Interview With The Inventor Of The Rotor-ship

Herr Fleitner, the inventor of the "rotor ship," has given some details of his invention to a "Berliner Tageblatt" correspondent. The new wind-power ship Buckau, the principles of which are illustrated in the diagram below, recently ran its first trial out of Kiel harbor. It has in place of sails two cylinders 60 ft. high and 9 ft. in diameter. These cylinders make some 120 revolutions a minute and, Herr Fleitner claims, have fifteen times the lifting power of sails. The Hamburg-Amerika Line and the Friedrich Krupp Germania shipyard at Kiel are participating in the enterprise, and the Hamburg-America Line is reported to be planning the immediate application of the invention to its ships. The following are extracts from Herr Fleitner's account of his invention:

The first trip with the Buckau (said Herr Fleitner) has been successful beyond expectations. Its extraordinary superiority over ordinary sailing ships in exploiting wind-power was shown beyond dispute, and it was shown that steam and motor ships, even the largest ocean liners, will need only 10 percent or so of their present fuel supply when using my invention. The wind-power ship makes full use of the millions of horse-power latent in the wind. It costs no more to build than existing types. Only 2 percent of applied power is necessary; the remainder of the power required can be drawn from the wind. Great ocean liners will be able, with necessary adaptation, to obtain 10,000 to 20,000 horse-power entirely out of the wind. So it solved the problem of the full exploitation of wind-power, the "blue coal."

Experts who were astonished at the most incredible ease with which the Buckau can be manoeuvred, "tacking" when sailing against the wind was performed with the greatest rapidity. In a fraction of the time hitherto needed, and during this manoeuvre the ship did not, as sailing ships do, come to a dead stop, but crossed the wind at a rapid pace.

RAD WEATHER DEFIED
The cylinders proved to be a steady element, contrary to expectation. Heavy hailstorms, which would have sent a sailing ship hard overboard, left the Buckau almost unaffected on her trip. The general verdict of the experts (said Herr Fleitner) was that it was rare that a revolutionary innovation, at its first tests on any large scale, showed such ripe fulfillment without passing through a tedious process of development. This is due partly to the fact that the revolving cylinder provides the most advantageous natural conditions conceivable for the current to work in altogether different from those offered by a sail; that is why its comparatively small aggregate surface has fifteen times the efficiency of a sail. Moreover, the construction is the height of mechanical simplicity—a cylinder revolving on its axis, set in motion by an electric motor with next to no expenditure of power. Nor does manoeuvring need a hundred men heaving in dozens of cables and

It will no longer be divided into two equal currents; the majority of its lines of force will pass on the side of the cylinder which is moving in the same direction. On one side there will be no force applied to the cylinder; on the other side an increased force. The difference works sideways upon the cylinder and comes into play as an increased force.

This also explains (proceeds the "Zeitung") why the ship with a cylindrical sail sails so well into the wind and crosses the wind so smoothly. The moment the direction of rotation is reversed the wind, so to speak, springs to the other side, for the excess of pressure is now on the opposite side of the cylinder. The effect of letting out or shortening sail is obtained by varying the speed of rotation. The great importance of the Fleitner cylinder sail is thus that it enables sufficient sail to be "set" even for great ships, the power secured per square meter of surface being exceptionally great; the effective surface can also be readily varied simply by varying the speed of rotation. Power is still required for rotating the cylinder, but the wind-force so secured is multiplied many times over.

Vantine's Celebrates First Anniversary

The Vantine's store in New York City, which recently celebrated the first anniversary in its present location, (39th St., and Fifth Avenue) has become a great retail Oriental emporium. Now every ship carrying merchandise across the Pacific Ocean contains some merchandise eventually destined for Vantine's from Chinese and Japanese exporters. Mr. Jack Ho, the business head of the concern, a young Chinese, expresses himself as being satisfied with the first year's development and looks forward to the future with much anticipation. One feature in the Vantine's store is an Oriental tea room with service by Japanese and Chinese maids in costume.

Rates For Electricity To Be Reduced

Concessions For Consumers To Be Announced Both For Light And Power

An intimation has been given that the Electricity Department of the Shanghai Municipal Council is about to announce a reduction of rates to users of electricity both for light and for power.

The Electricity Department sold a total of two hundred and seventy-two million units last year and furnished twenty-two million units for which they were not paid. Of this quantity two hundred and thirty-six million units were used for power purposes. The load factor of about fifty percent to the credit of the local Electricity works is the envy of electrical establishments the world over.

The pay and allowances of the engineer-in-chief and manager amount to more than twenty-seven thousand taels annually.

The Legations And Justice

THE latest dispatch to hand with regard to the affair of M. Ostroumoff and his colleagues does not appear to throw very much light on the matter of their arrest and incarceration, though it does present certain aspects of the matter which are not altogether pleasing. After having been held in prison for approximately two months, with no charge preferred against them, and kept in what amounted to solitary confinement while investigators, apparently not connected with the court sought for grounds to justify the action of the authorities, Mr. Ostroumoff and his companions have been handed over to the procurator who will eventually have to initiate proceedings. He in turn has some four months in which to prepare his case while the unfortunate defendants are condemned to solitude.

The facilities which they will have to prepare their defence can readily be perceived and these men appear now, not only to be the victims of a vicious procedure which permits of arrest without the preliminary of a definite complaint, but are deprived of the means by which they can adequately present their cases before the proper judicature, and ensure by a full hearing of both sides the administration of such justice as is within the competence of the Court in Harbin to administer. Apart from these considerations, Mr. Ostroumoff is not in robust health, a fact recognised by the Chinese authorities, in that recently he has been kept in the prison hospital. These points of criticism would be obviated if the Chinese authorities were to adopt a proceeding which has been urged on them from humanitarian motives, viz., that these men should be liberated on bail. There does not appear to be much chance that any of them would be able to escape from Harbin even if they wanted to, and the fact that pending trial they were allowed their freedom would do much to lessen the disadvantage they are at while confined in the manner they are at present.

It will be noticed that the action of the American, British, French and Japanese legations is in line with that of the consuls at Harbin who, immediately following the arrests in October, protested without avail. Unfortunately for M. Ostroumoff the only consideration which can induce the Legations named above is one of humanity. The Minister of his own nationality is concerned on behalf of his government in getting M. Ostroumoff into Russia, and following the demands made upon Chang Tso-lin last summer for the delivery to the Soviet of certain White Russians, a request which was not then granted, we find that in this present juncture M. Karakhan is prepared to use his influence on M. Ostroumoff's behalf if he will consent to go to Moscow for trial. The reason is obvious and we are not to suppose that M. Ostroumoff would be any better off entrusted to the tender mercies of his Bolshevik countrymen than he is at present in the hands of the Chinese authorities. Indeed, of the two evils, we should prefer to be in Harbin; for despite the unwarrantable delays and the difficulties which the unfortunate defendant must find in fighting his case, there is just a chance that justice might be done him by accident. There is nothing to lead us to believe that any such accident would occur in Moscow.

We have already commented on this case from the point of view of extra-territoriality and there appears to be no particular reason to emphasise that point at this juncture. But solitary confinement for a man not proven guilty, who indeed up to a few days ago did not know what charge he might have to meet, and may not know even at this moment, is nothing short of iniquitous. Indeed, in some civilised countries it is actually the punishment for the gravest offences, and it can never be argued that such treatment is correct in the case of a man who has not been found guilty of any crime, and may not. When all is said and done it is perfectly obvious that the time is yet far distant when foreigners in China should be called upon to surrender the rights to trial before their own courts and we hope that when the commission appointed by the Washington Conference does eventually come to China on its tour of investigation, this and other similar cases will be emphatically brought to its attention.

China Fights Both At Home And Abroad

THE war in China between the Chang Tso-lings and Wu Pei-fu, the Fengs and Chis and Lus had hardly been concluded before the Chinese communities in the United States started a few wars on their own account. American newspapers arriving in the recent mail contain almost as much news on the front pages regarding the "Tong" wars which flared up in New York, Boston, Washington, D. C., Chicago and elsewhere, as they contained a few weeks previously on the war in China. The only large city in the United States containing a Chinese population which apparently escaped trouble was San Francisco.

Just what started this most recent war of the tongs in the United States is not known but the organisations involved were the Hip Sing Tong and the on Leong Tong which are supposed to include in their membership most of the Chinese residents of the United States. The fighting started in New York City and in a few days six Chinese had been killed and several others sent to the hospitals. The results of similar fight in Boston and elsewhere are not known, but in Washington, D. C., the national capital, Dr. Sao-ke Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister was able through an almost superhuman effort to induce the rival organisations to sign a "treaty." In a statement appearing in the press at the time, Dr. Sze expressed his regret at the happenings and promised his support to the police authorities in the United States in stopping the disgraceful business.

Owing to the mystery which always surrounds these "tong" outbreaks in the Chinese settlements in the United States, they always receive more publicity than they really deserve which naturally has an adverse effect upon public opinion in the United States. For example in the city of Pittsburgh the affair was given an element of romance through the connection of a Chinese woman with the affair, a Mrs. Elizabeth Sing, an important witness who disappeared. Raids of the "tong" headquarters in this as well as other cities disclosed considerable stocks of drugs which also had an adverse effect upon public opinion regarding the lives and habits of America's Chinese population. In Chicago on one evening more than 100 Chinese residents received telephone threats of sudden death unless they sent money to certain designated places without delay. In Newark, N. J. where the "war" is really said to have started, one police report had it that the fight started over a dispute at a "fan-tan" gambling game.

In view of the fact that very little is known in China regarding these outbreaks among the Chinese residents of the United States it is of interest to reprint here a statement by a member of the police department of San Francisco who has had an experience of some fifteen years in dealing with these "wars."

"To start with, practically all Chinese tongs that resort to the use of gunmen are mere blackmailing organisations. Self-respecting Chinese don't belong to them. Contrary to common belief the tongs are an American product. They did not come to us from China. They originated in California and Nevada during the early gold rush days and had their inception in the theory that might makes right. The meaning of the word tong is 'protective society,' for a yearly fee one tong will guarantee protection to its members against any enemies they may happen to have in a rival tong. As a side issue of their protective operations, most tongs exercise monopolies either in gambling, slave dealing, drug smuggling, or some similar line. Almost every tong war has started as a quarrel over one of these evils—most commonly over the theft of Chinese slave girls.

"All tong killings are paid murders, and all tong gunmen are paid killers. In order to maintain prestige, the tongs maintain a regular pay roll for killers in peace time. When tong wars break every victim slain has a price on his head—put there by officers of the tong whose gunmen do the killing. Because the officials of the tongs involved in the fighting put up these offers of cash for each victim slain, they are really more responsible for the murders than their paid killers, who go out and do their bidding.

"When two tongs declare war, the first thing done is to put prices on the heads of officers of rival organisations. After that, head prices are offered for lay members of the opposing tong, the paid killers being furnished with lists of those whose deaths are most desired, rewards ranging from $25,000 for the president of rival tong to $500 for an ordinary member. Tong killers also are furnished pistols and guaranteed legal protection if caught in the commission of murder.

"Under the laws of every state in the Union, a man who pays to have a murder committed can either be prosecuted for the slaying or as an accessory. If the tongs did not maintain forces of paid gunmen in peace times, and if officers of the tongs didn't offer rewards for killings when warfare breaks, there would be no tong killings. Every tong murder committed is with the full knowledge of tong officers whose gunmen do the slaying and for every murder they pay out cash. Here in San Francisco when tong wars threaten we just make a quick call on the heads of the organisations involved. The first killing pulled off by one of your gunmen we slam you in the hoose grow for murder, we tell them. Usually there's a quick conference, an appeal from both sides for a 'peace' meeting, and the fight is declared off."

Other Views Than Ours On The China Political Situation

China as a nominal republic can not be united by force. Thirteen years of bitter experience, full of tumult and of shouting, have proved this. End of civil war by force could be brought about only by the seating of a strong dictator or by the return to the imperial form of government that China threw off in 1911.

Feng Yu-huang, who by his coup now controls the central government at Peking, has realised this. The proclamation he issued when he marched into the national capital, told President Tsao Kun, who later resigned after obeying directions to order the cessation of hostilities and remove Marshal Wu Pei-fu, the Chihli war lord, was an impressive document, as Oriental documents usually are, but it had features that have not heretofore been found in Peking pronouncements. The Christian general pointed out that the negotiating of peace "is not a soldier's job," but is one for "responsible good men." As a soldier, he has known that there must be something more than force to bring about the end of the war and the reign of lasting peace. During his career in the army he has seen China plunged into one misfortune after another through the greed for power of militarists.

The fact that he has pledged himself to bring about peace by co-operation—the bringing together of the best minds in China, representing all sections, to plan for a united country—is not a positive assurance that he will succeed, but it is a hopeful sign. Wu Pei-fu, the supposedly strong man of China, has been ordered banished to the post of "chief commissioner for the development of Kokonor," in the northeast mountain fastnesses of Tibet—a situation similar to what would have happened during the World War had General Pershing been taken from the front and sent as an inspector to Point Barrow, in Alaska.

This is the Chinese method of saving face, but it will not save in this instance if the order is carried out. Wu's withdrawal would mean the end of the fighting on the Shanhaikwan front, where he has been in danger of being disastrously defeated for the past three weeks by the war lord of Manchuria, Chang Tso-lin.

But with Wu out of the way, will Chang be willing to submit his fortunes to a round table conference, in which the decisions will not be on the basis of military strength? He may under certain conditions, but he is likely to insist on naming them.

The deposed Wu Pei-fu had a plan all mapped out for his campaign of force. It included the wiping out first of General Lu Yung-hsiang, who was in control at Shanghai; second, the knocking out of Chang in Manchuria, and then taking care of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, who has continued to do the ruling business in Canton. Lu went down at Shanghai as per the Wu program, but that was the end of his success. It was the end of his campaign that led to his undoing by one of his own commanders, the most capable of them.

The round-table conference plan has been the favorite of Dr. Sun in Canton, but his idea has been denounced as that of an impracticable idealist. He believed it would lead to a strong central government, which would still recognize the rights of the provinces to home rule. Perhaps it will not be looked upon as unworkable now that Feng is for it. The Christian general can not be accused of being impractical or a mere theorist. If other leaders of the eighteen provinces can be made to believe that the time is opportune to try a new deal that gives promise of better success than militarism, and there is a willingness on the part of Chang to join in without danger of losing his grip on the three eastern provinces of Manchuria, then the experiment may be launched.

If the plan does not prove successful, then there will recur the danger of return to the empire, dictated by a force stronger than any present leaders have been able to exert. There will be more hope for the Feng plan if he insists that terms of his proclamation shall be carried out—that is, the soldiers shall not dictate the unification of China. The excluding of the war lords from the councils for unifying China will avoid the very appearance of evil, or, as a Chinese proverb puts it, "Never stoop to tie your shoe latch while passing through your neighbor's melon patch."

CHINA SHOULD RESIST COMMUNISM

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Sir—It is worth while for the Chinese to understand just what is advocated by the members of the Soviet Government to approve where approval is reasonable and to reject where rejection is necessary. The Chinese Government has done well to recognise the Soviet Government and to re-establish formal relations between the two countries of Russia and China, but it would be folly to swallow whole all the theories of the Soviet or try to apply them to China.

The title of the new State whose capital is at Moscow explains in part what is aimed at. The name in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. While the word "Russia" was used after the second revolution in 1917, it has since been dropped. From the present enlarged name any people may be received into the Union, not necessarily Russians. In the same way this Union is only partially the successor of the old Russian Monarchy. In Chinese two characters generally describe this Government, the first one for the word "Soviet" and second one for the word "Union." The Government thus thinks more of the Soviet principles than of the Russians. Here is one country where nationalism is shoved back to the rear.

In the second place there is established at Moscow a Republic, but this Republic is unlike any republic yet known. It is sui generis. The name "republic" is engraved on the panel of the door, but how far democratic ideas of liberty prevail has not yet been made clear. So China for thirteen years has had a republic in name, but have the people had any voice?

In the third place this new form of republic is a Union, a federal union. The idea of union appears in the Chinese characters used both for republic and for union. Hence this is a most essential idea in the Government. A great many separate States, according to theory, have autonomy of their own; there are many republics thus allowed to be formed and thus brought together in the large Union at Moscow. Some such union of autonomous and sovereign States may yet be worked out in China, but China, like this Soviet Union and like the United States of America, must provide for a Central Government of supervisory character and having certain powers not inherent in the separate States but essential to a large Union.

In the fourth place in each republic and in the Union there is what is called the Soviet. So far as is known, the word Soviet refers to a council or committee elected not according to divisions of territory but divisions in occupation. First come the laborers or factory hands and then the peasants. All others comprising the wealthier, the merchant and educated classes are excluded. Even of the two newly-favored classes, the peasants have had as a matter of fact but little power. Whether such an exclusive system is desired for China has not yet been properly tested.

The fifth feature is that of a Socialistic State. But the Socialism of the Soviets is different from that found in Germany, England and other countries. The original idea of improving the condition of the working classes and of securing more equalisation between capital and labor is a laudable one. The method of State Socialism, in which great enterprises come under the control of the State has also in certain countries been tried and found worth while. The socialism of the Soviets is of extreme form and should be called communism.

Thus the sixth feature of the new Government in Russia is that

To Portray George Washington In D. W. Griffith's "America"

After a country-wide search in which thousands of photographs were examined, and more than a hundred actors, including a number of Broadway stars, were interviewed in person, Arthur Dewey has been selected by D. W. Griffith to portray the role of George Washington in "America," the photodrama of the War of Independence which Mr. Griffith is filming for the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mr. Dewey has been selected because he was adjudged to have the greatest and most perfect physical resemblance to Washington. Before the final selection was made he and several other applicants were taken to Washington by Mr. Griffith that he might compare their likenesses with paintings and statues of the first President.

While some historical authorities contend that the Father of His Country was more than six feet tall, Mr. Griffith's research department found an order written by Washington to his tailors in London in which he described himself as "just six feet, and of medium build." It was found that Dewey is exactly six feet tall.

Mr. Dewey is a descendant of an old Revolutionary family, which in the last century migrated from Lexington, Mass., to the Middle West, settling in Illinois. One of his ancestors, Ashabel Smith, answered the summons of Paul Revere, and fought on Lexington Green.

Mr. Dewey brings to his role not only a fine, sympathetic understanding of Washington's character, obtained from a close study of Washington, but has as well a remarkable knowledge of the most intimate details of Washington's ideals, moods, habits and costumes. Those close to Mr. Dewey declare that he is not merely acting Washington—but he is living the role.

NOTABLES WATCH FILMING OF GRIFFITH'S "AMERICA"

Two former ambassadors and an erstwhile secretary of the treasury were among a party of notables who recently viewed the filming of several scenes for "America," the screen epic of the War of Independence which D. W. Griffith is filming for the Daughters of the American Revolution at his Mamaroneck studio.

Dr. Charles R. Crane, formerly U. S. Minister to China, Richard

Crane, formerly U. S. Minister to Yugoslavia, D. F. Houston, one-time secretary of the treasury, and Mrs. Houston, Sir Percy Sykes, of London, Mrs. Leatherbee, of Westover, Va., and D. M. Brodie, were among a distinguished group which watched Lionel Barrymore and Miss Carol Dempster, Mr. Griffith's leading woman in the production, enact some of the principal and stirring scenes for the production.

The Crane family owns the famous Westover estate on the James river in Virginia where Mr. Griffith took a number of Revolutionary scenes, and in which a number of prominent Southern society women and Revolutionary war descendants appeared as "extras."

CAROL DEMPSTER HURT IN MOVIE SCENE

Miss Carol Dempster, leading woman in "America," the film romance of the United States struggle for liberty, which D. W. Griffith is filming for the Daughters of the American Revolution, was painfully injured when thrown from a horse, she was riding in one of the outdoor scenes of the picture at Mamaroneck, N.Y., where the Griffith studios are located.

Miss Dempster's mount slipped in the mud, throwing her a considerable distance. A shout of dismay went up as her fellow-players saw the horse slip, fall and roll over. Miss Dempster was riding side-saddle, and had the animal fallen on the other side she would have been crushed.

Mr. Griffith and others ran to her aid. A physician found she was suffering from a severely wrenched shoulder and a sprained ankle. Her costume was ruined, and she was much shaken up. It was necessary for her to retire from the filming for several days to recover from the shock.

MOVIE SNOW AND ICE SCENES HIT BY "OPEN" WINTER

The so far "Open model" of winter weather has hit several of the motion picture producing companies hard. Producers and directors who planned to take snow and ice scenes during the cold weather have had their entire schedule upset by the lack of ice and snow.

D. W. Griffith's photodrama of the War of Independence under the title of "America," perhaps the biggest of all the several films waiting on the weather, is reported to have been the hardest hit of all. There is no sign of heavy ice on the Delaware River and in consequence Mr. Griffith has had to eliminate the scene of Washington crossing the Delaware. Mr. Griffith sent scouts into Canada in the hope of finding a moving stream there all frozen over and ready for the camera. They found plenty of frozen lakes, but the rivers had only a thin ice-coating, and in many instances great flocks of duck were making their home there, which caused Mr. Griffith at once to redouble his fervent hopes for ice and snow at Valley Forge.

of communism. It is of this that the Chinese should fight shy. It means that all property, private or of co-operations or called public, is appropriated by the State without compensation. This applies both to native and foreign property. Communism is confiscation.

Not only so, the reports received from Russia show that the real power of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is in the Communists or one-fourth of the whole population. This party is strongly centralized and dictates the policy of the Union Government at Moscow and, what is more, exercises control over each autonomous republic. No one dares to act contrary to the Central committee in Moscow.

It is thus that the fact of communism modifies and minimizes the effect of all the other features that appear in the title, as republic, socialist, soviet and union. As to union there is none so far as the republics are concerned or as concerns the great peasant class. The union is in the hands of a few, who besides the usual centralized government have the use of all the property of a whole nation.

It is this that this system will have to be changed in order to be acceptable to the great mass of the people. However, this kind of autocracy, greater than that of any czar, being once imbedded in the rule of the whole State, is hard to eradicate.

Whatever the Chinese in their reconstruction may learn from the Soviet rulers of Russia, all that they can learn from Communism in actual practice is to take warning and resist it with all the strength of the nation.

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:
Sir: While reading the CHINA PRESS the other day in college public library, a coolie carried up to me and took away all of a sudden, the paper while I was there reading, remarking: "Excuse me, our president wants to read the paper himself." Is the library financed by the president? If such were the case, it would be better for him, instead of opening it up for his own use. But, be it understood the library is unmistakably public by financed me. I do not see why the president should behave in this way. May be it is I think, just because he considers himself "president." ANOTHER SERIES OF DEBATES SHOULD BE STARTED

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:
Sir: The Intercollegiate English Debating Association organized in winter 1918 at Shanghai by the University of Nanking, St. John's University, Shanghai College, and Hangchow College has come to its end this year. The practice of the Association in the past has been that in December every year two preliminary debates were held. The winner of the preliminary met in April for a final contest. The winner of the final held the championship for that year.

The championships of the I. E. D. A. won by during the past six years are:
1918-19—University of Nanking.
1919-20—St. John's University.
